CLOSE OF THE SESSION.

Officers Chosen by the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Lackawanna Presbytery.

The closing session of the annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, which is being held in the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, occurred yesterday morning, commencing at 9 o'clock with a devo-tional service led by Mrs. J. T. Rodman, of Hawley, Mrs. M. R. Kays, president, called the meeting to order and the report of Delegate Miss Carrie Dickson, who represented the Scranton dis-trict at the assembly meeting at Portsmouth, O., last April, was read. Her report was complete and concise, and gave a good idea of the work of other districts in conjunction with the one she represented. Following Miss Dickson the secretary of literature, Mrs. T. J. Luce, made her report. Mrs. Frisbie, of Carbondale, then read some very interesting data taken from extracts of letters received by her from her niece, Mrs. Vanderwho is at present in China engaged in the missionary work, A pa-per compiled by Mrs. Horace Weston, hall was prettly decorated for the ocof Carbondale, was read by Mrs. William Thompson, of Carbondale. The pa-per dealt with an "Outlook on Foreign" beautiful costumes of the ladies and the more sedate black of the gentlemen Missions" and was capably prepared by a really fine Yest was produced. The its author and its principal points were music was for hished by the popular creditably brought out in the reading Professor Johason and consisted of this paper was followed by the reports dances. The dancing was enjoyed to a of Bands, after which a hymn was sung and the audience listened to the recitation of Francis Ridley Havergal's repaid for their efforts. The following beautiful poem entitled "Sisters." The is a list of those who were in attendpoem was nicely given in Miss Lelia Porter's best manner.

and resolutions then reported. The following officers were duly elected as reported by the nominating committee; Mrs. M. R. Kays, Green Ridge, president; Mrs. C. E. Robinson, Scranton, first vice-president; Mrs. C. F. Rockwell, Honesdale, second vice-president; Miss Carrie Dickson, Scranton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. S. Morgan, Providence, recording secretary and treasurer; Mrs. T. J. Luce, Hyde Park, secretary of literature. These officers were in fact re-elected, having served for the term previous and owing to their capable and efficient service were accorded another term. Mrs. T. J. Luce was elected as delegate of the Lackawanna Presbytery, Scranton district, to represent them at the assembly, which will be held in Altoona on April 28 and 29 next. Mrs, F. L. Hitchock was chosen as the alternate.

Harry Miller then recited "Which Way Do You Lean" in a pleasing manner and J. A. Fitch, of China, made a few short remarks upon the "Women of China." He showed the degradation and small opinion in which women are held there and drew several startling contrasts between women of America and those of that heathen country. Furthermore the work among the women is urgent and can only be accomplished teachers and workers there and he urged the sending of more women missionaries to do this great branch of the work. A prayer was then offered guidance and help to the society and to all missionaries, and after the singing of a hymn and the pronouncing of the benediction by Rev. J. A. Fitch the sessions came to a close.

Following are the resolutions presented by the committee on resolutions:

Whereas, We the members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, meeting in annual session and desiring to express our appreciation of the success of this nineteenth annual meeting, have in

Resolved. That we, the members of the Women's Foreign Missionery society of] the Lackawanna Presbytery, have reason for gratitude as we listened to the reports of the various societies in the Scranton district; that there has been a steady in-crease both in contribution and in the interest manifested in missions; and ing was greatly enhanced by the earnest words of Rev. J. A. Fitch, who told us of his work in China, and the very soul-in-spiring talks of Miss Cort. We are thankful that woman has been so exalted and that we have so large a place in the work and hope that we may hav a fresh love for this noble work of soul-saving; and, Resolved. That our sympathy be extended the auxiliary of the Second Presbyterian church in the loss of their beloved pres-ident, Miss Emma Vail, realizing, as we do, the great loss this society sustains in the death of this faithful sister and co-worker; and, Resolved, That, to Mrs. Kays, our prestlent, we extend our heartfelt sympathy in the sorrow that came to her in the death of her mother, Mrs. John Fordham, whose gentle presence is also missed in these annual meetings; and, Resolved, That, in response to the very residence. It was private and interment was made in Forest Hill cemetery. The kindly welcome extended to the ladies of this society by Mrs. J. P. Moffat, we extend and express our appreciation of the generous hospitality and the bountiful supper served us. We would also extend gipper some thanks to the passes, services rendered us.
